

Case 1: 38 year-old female who was noted to have a cervical fibroid during vaginal delivery.

Case 2: 50 year-old female referred to colposcopy for LSIL pap. During colposcopy, a cervical lesion was noted and biopsied.

Case 3: 55 year-old female presented for routine screening. A co-test was ordered.

Case 4: 56 year-old female referred to colposcopic clinic for an abnormal pap. An ECC was obtained.